

Robin Kessinger Festival & Guitar Contest

LISTEN and LEARN traditional flatpicking and fingerstyle guitar from the masters

Robert Shafer

dazzling national flatpick guitar champion and major West Virginia treasure

Wayne Henderson

one of the nation's most beloved and sought-after guitar teachers and players

Todd Hallawell

celebrated national fingerstyle guitar champion

Robin Kessinger

national flatpick guitar champion and member of the legendary Kessinger family of traditional music, Robin coordinates Guitar Week at the Augusta Heritage Center and teaches in major guitar camps nationwide

Dan Kessinger

great teacher and player of flatpick guitar and fiddle, Robin's brother and another heir to the formidable Kessinger family talent

... all in one place ... an amazing opportunity!

Festival
admission
$10/day

The Festival

rain or shine!

Fri. 5:30-10 p.m.

Sat. 10 a.m.-11 p.m.

Contestants

CALL to register
and compete!

Prizes

1st: Robin Kessinger model
Sam Watts guitar ($2,800 value)

2nd: $400 cash, trophy

3rd: $200 cash, trophy

4th: $100 cash, trophy

5th: $50, plaque

Evening performances
and open mics,
including performances
by the five masters,
Alan Freeman,
Joe Dobbs,
Kate Long,
and maybe you!

For everyone

good music
good food
good company
open stage performances
friendly accommodations
campsites available

May 29-30, 2009

at The BrazenHead Inn

in the magnificent Potomac Highlands of West Virginia

To assure your lodging reservations, call toll-free 1-866-339-6917

www.brazenheadinn.com

Guitar workshops

$75/one day

$120/two days

Friday & Saturday

Student/Teacher meet and greet Thursday

Todd Hallawell teaches

flatpicking #1

fingerpicking

Friday & Saturday

Dan Kessinger teaches

flatpicking #2

Saturday

Kate Long teaches

songwriting

Friday night

and

backup guitar

for beginners

Saturday morning

$35/half day